IRISH HEARTS

Will Throb in Response to the Name and Fame of Robert Emmet.

Ladies' Auxiliary Arrange to Celebrate Centenary of Martyrdom.

Excellent Literary and Musical Programme For Sunday Night.

LOCAL ARTISTS AND IRISH MUSIC

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Ancient Order of Hibernians met at Hibernian Hall, Wednesday night and completed arrangements for the celebration of the centenary of Robert Emmet's execution, which will be held at the new Masonic Theater tomorrow night. The members were present in large numbers and all were enthusiastic over the forthcoming entertainment. So well had the ladies performed their work that little was to be done, save hearing the reports of the various committees.

Miss Mary Cavanaugh, the President, presided. The following new members were elected: Misses Mary J. Joyce, Anna Rihn and Lizzie Callahan, Mesdames David Welsh and William Kelly. The application of Miss Mary Concannon was received. David O'Connell and John H. Hennessey made addresses encouraging the ladies in their work and promising the hearty support of the gentlemen. The entertainment committee announced the programme arranged for the centenary celebration. A glance at the list of performers is a guarantee that the entertainment will be successful from a literary and musical standpoint.

Not the least attractive feature will be the children's chorus, which will open the entertainment with a patriotic song: "Green, White and Gold." These children, about two score in number, are of Irish parentage, and have been trained by Miss Mayme Keenan during the past two weeks. Their singing promises to be a pleasant surprise to their parents and the public. Alderman James J. Fitzgerald, who will deliver the address on Robert Emmet, hardly needs an introduction to people of Louisville. Although he has lived in Louisville comparatively a short time, his grace and eloquence as a speaker, particularly on Irish topics, have made him a universal favorite.

Joseph Metzger, a blind cornetist, will be accompanied by Miss Anna Orr, also blind, a pianist from the Kentucky Institute for the Blind. Both are popular in local musical circles and never fail to please. Mrs. William T. Meehan, an old favorite in local Irish-American circles, will sing "The Last Words of Emmet." Al Barrett, who will sing "Killarney," has a pleasing baritone voice of great power. Little Miss May Hussey will recite "The Vision of St. Dominic."

Miss Josephine Hoertz, one of Louisville's best known and most popular singers, will render "Come Back to Erin." Thomas D. Cline, a young elocutionist of rare ability, will recite Robert Emmet's speech from the dock. A selected quartet has been engaged to sing a medley of Irish airs. Their performance will be a pleasant surprise to the audience. "Fare Thee Well" will be rendered by John Green, a well known vocalist, and Miss Julia Kelly, who has done much to aid in making the celebration a success, will sing "My Wild Irish Rose."

The accompanists during the evening will be Miss Mamie Keenan and Mrs. Fred Harig, Jr., organist and director of St. Mary's church choir. The finale will be a grand chorus, "Who Fears to Speak of '98?" by the Ladies' Auxiliary. Montenegro & Riehm have kindly loaned a piano for the evening. The tickets are only twenty-five cents, and no extra charge will be made for reserved seats, which may be procured at John Mulloy's coffee store, 214 West Market street.

The Ladies' Auxiliary deserves great credit for arranging such an excellent programme on short notice, and as this is the first entertainment given under their auspices it should be well attended. These patriotic women are striving to inculcate a greater feeling of patriotism among the young and old. Every true Irishman should do his utmost to help make the affair a success financially as well as socially.

The divisions of Jeffersonville and New Albany have both received invitations from the ladies to attend and it is expected they will be present in full strength. The news has reached this office that County Treasurer Barney Coll and Police Commissioner Jack Murphy, and President Dan Walsh and Con McBarrow will head big delegations from the sister cities.

BRANCH 25 TO CELEBRATE.

Branch 25, Catholic Knights of America, made up of members of St. John's church, are preparing to celebrate its twenty-fifth anniversary on October 25. The new officers of Branch 25 are William T. Meehan, President; L. Dominic Bax, Secretary, and E. J. Mann, Treasurer.

DISABILITY FUND

Discontinued by Central Committee of Catholic Knights of America.

Work of Entertainment Committee Continues to Make Favorable Progress.

Trustee McGinn Gave Figures to Correct Erroneous Impression.

MORE TICKETS WERE DISTRIBUTED

The Central Committee of the Catholic Knights of America held its regular monthly meeting at St. Mary's school hall on Friday night. Vice President Patrick Holly presided during the evening, although President Michael Reichert came in while the meeting was in session. Joseph P. McGinn's resolution to discontinue the disability fund was read for the second time. The resolution advocated that all moneys in the future be kept in a general fund, so that they could be used whenever desired for any and all purposes. On motion of John J. Score, seconded by Jonathan Thickstun, the resolution was adopted.

Mr. McGinn, in behalf of the Entertainment Committee, of which he is Chairman, stated that the committee had decided to give a dramatic entertainment at St. Mary's Hall on October 12. He made a detailed report on the distribution of tickets, rehearsal of performers, the painting of hangers by President Reichert and the fact that the management of the entertainment had been put in charge of Messrs. Ben Speaker and Michael Reichert. It was also announced that the Very Rev. Father Westerman had consented to deliver a brief address before the dramatic entertainment.

Secretary Martin reported on the number of tickets distributed and stated that several branches had paid for their allotted number. Newton G. Rogers stated that $21 had already been paid for tickets, and he thought that each member of the Central Committee could dispose of twenty-five tickets. He said he had every reason to believe that the committee would clear $250 on the entertainment, as the expenses would be comparatively small. Mr. Rogers argued that by keeping the money in the general fund it could be disposed of to the best interests of the order, and that if a worthy member became afflicted or disabled the committee could keep him in good standing. During the evening 170 additional tickets were distributed among the members of the committee. The committee on directory reported that owing to the work on the entertainment the directory would have to wait for awhile. C. A. Hill reported progress in behalf of the committee on organization.

Supreme Trustee McGinn gave facts and figures to correct the erroneous impression held by some people who claimed that the Catholic Knights of America's assessments were too high. He took the case of W. E. Clark, recently deceased, who entered the order in 1879, and who during his twenty-four years of membership paid into the order $784.52 in assessments, dues and per capita taxes in return for his policy of $2,000. Mr. McGinn's remarks were indorsed by Messrs. Thickstun, Neuhaus, Goby and Martin in attendance. Messrs. Martin, Schalda, Score and Veeneman were appointed a committee to place tickets on sale in various parts of the city. The committee on advertising reported progress. As there was no further business on hand the committee adjourned to meet at Mr. Rogers' office at 8 o'clock tonight.

MIKE TYNAN'S TRIP.

Mike Tynan, the popular Deputy Bailiff of the Police Court, left yesterday for a ten days' trip to Baltimore, Washington, New York and other points in the East. Mr. Tynan has been Deputy Bailiff during the past six years and this is his first vacation in that time. His friends believe that he has earned the rest. He is President of Division 1, Ancient Order of Hibernians, and will visit several of the divisions during his trip East. His brother accompanied him.

DAN SAVED BOY.

Patrolman Dan Sheehan, one of the most modest men on the force, is lame as the result of an act of heroism. Last Saturday night Patrolman Sheehan saw a little boy fall in front of a rapidly moving street car. Without thinking of the consequences to himself the policeman jumped for the child and dragged him from the track in the nick of time. In saving the child Mr. Sheehan scraped his knee on the pavement. Although lame he continued to patrol his beat.

GRAND EUCHE

To Be Given by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Charity Club.

A big euchre will be given at Bertrand Hall Tuesday afternoon and evening under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Charity Club. The games will be called promptly at 2:30 in the afternoon and at 8 o'clock at night. Forty handsome prizes will be awarded the winners of the games. Refreshments will be served both during the afternoon and night. Those who do not care to play euchre will be entitled to refreshments upon presentation of their tickets. During the afternoon ten of the handsome prizes will be awarded and the remainder will be awarded in the evening, when a record breaking crowd is expected to attend. The ladies have worked earnestly to make the affair a success, and as the proceeds are to be devoted to a worthy purpose, the euchre should be well patronized. Members of the Charity Club will keep tally of the various euchre games.

HAPPILY MARRIED.

John P. Mackey and Miss Katie Spellman were married at St. Patrick's church at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon, the Very Rev. Father Cronin officiating. The bride is a charming young woman and Mr. Mackey is a machinist in the fire department's repair shop. After a wedding trip of ten days Mr. and Mrs.

Mackey will be at home to their friends at 1946 Portland avenue.

DEVOUT CATHOLICS

Will Make a Pilgrimage to the Grave of Monsignor Bouchet.

A number of the devout Catholics of Louisville have arranged to make a pilgrimage to the grave of the late Monsignor Bouchet at Nazareth Academy next Thursday. On that day, had he lived, Father Bouchet would have celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of his ordination. He died on April 12 last, but his faithful children have not forgotten his faithful work among them and will in their humble way strive to honor his memory by making this pilgrimage to his grave. A train has been chartered and will leave the Union station at Tenth and Broadway at 7:30 o'clock sharp, returning to Louisville before 5 o'clock in the evening. The Rev. Fathers Rock, Schumann and several other priests will assist in the pilgrimage. On reaching Nazareth a solemn mass of requiem will be celebrated, after which the faithful will march in procession to Father Bouchet's grave, where prayers for the repose of his soul will be said.

Round trip tickets will be only twenty-five cents. Those who desire to go should give their names either to Father Rock, at the Cathedral rectory, or to Mrs. David Welsh, 632 Seventh street.

SUDDEN DEATH

Of Mrs. Margaret Welch Is a Cause For General Regret.

Mrs. Margaret Welch, an aged and respected member of St. Patrick's congregation, was found dead in bed at her home, 1915 High street, Thursday morning. She retired in her usual good health on Wednesday night, but when one of her sons went to awaken her the following morning he found her cold in death. Mrs. Welch was born in Ireland sixty years ago, and came to America when quite a young woman. She spent the greater part of her life in Louisville. Two sons are left to mourn her loss, Patrolman John Welch and Edward Welch. The funeral will take place from St. Patrick's church this morning.

Mrs. Welch was noted for her charity and Christian life. She was in every sense a good old fashioned Irish mother. Her sons have received many expressions of sympathy from their friends and acquaintances.

WELCOMED AT JEFFERSONVILLE.

Thomas Dignan, John J. Score and Joseph P. McGinn, of the Central Committee of the Catholic Knights of America, visited the Jeffersonville branch Wednesday night in the interest of the order and were accorded a royal welcome. Each of the three gentlemen made brief remarks, which were responded to by members of the Jeffersonville branch.

MARRIED COUPLES

Have Increased Their Votes in the World's Fair Contest.

John H. Hennessey and Wife Still Hold First Place in Race.

Growing Interest Shows Several Changes in the Standing This Week.

GOOD TIME FOR FOUR PEOPLE

During the past week interest in the Kentucky Irish American's World's Fair contest seems to have gained new life, and as a result several of the married couples have added materially to their votes. John H. Hennessey and wife have increased their lead, while Mr. and Mrs. Dan McKenna still hold second place, although increasing their vote by more than 200. Messrs. and Mesdames Thos. Dolan, Mike Reichert and John J. Sullivan are tie for third place, each couple having increased their original vote by 100.

While the unmarried ladies and gentlemen have not sent in any ballots, it is known that several of them are saving their strength for a later date. All seem to realize that the Kentucky Irish American has made a very liberal offer to those who desire to take advantage of it. It is to be hoped that unmarried folks will send in their additional ballots next week.

No formal notice is necessary for those who desire to enter their friends in the contest. For the benefit of those who have not read the offer made, it may be well to say that the Kentucky Irish American in its first issue in July offered the following prizes: A trip to the World's Fair at St. Louis next year, with free transportation to and from St. Louis and a week at the Lindell Hotel, to the most popular married couple, to the most popular single lady and to the most popular single gentleman, the test of popularity in each case to be the number of votes cast for them through the Kentucky Irish American.

While the contest is open to all, without reference to creed or nationality, this offer is especially interesting to Irish-Americans, owing to the fact that the Ancient Order of Hibernians will hold their national convention at St. Louis next year and just at the time when the Kentucky Irish American's prize winners will reach the Mound City. The only conditions are that contestants send in their ballots clipped from the Kentucky Irish American. Each new subscriber is entitled to fifty votes with every dollar paid in advance, and all old subscribers in arrears are entitled to fifty votes for each dollar paid in. Those who wish to vote can cast these fifty votes on each dollar for a married couple or for the single lady or single gentleman, but no person can vote for two persons on the same ballot except when voting for a man and his wife. The contestants and their standing to date are as follows:

M'GINN WAS WORKED.

A party of Hibernians and their respective wives from that section of the city known as Limerick journeyed down to Shawnee beach Sunday to watch the multitude disport in the waters of the Ohio. What was their surprise when they saw a manly form inclosed in a green and white bathing suit breasting the waves and doing all manner of fancy stunts, but not close enough to shore to allow his features to be recognized. The Limerick people wanted to know who this patriotic fellow was who wore the white and green.

"I'll get him," said Carley Callahan, and he whistled the "Boone Water." In less than it takes to tell it Joseph P. McGinn was on shore waiting to lick some one. Then he found out that it was only one of his Hibernian friends who had coaxed him from the sport he was enjoying.

GRAND COUNCIL

Of the Y. M. I., Kentucky Jurisdiction, Opens Tomorrow.

Joint Initiation Will Be Held and Many Councils Will Assist.

Friendly Rivalry Between Candidates For the Various Offices.

BUSINESS ON MONDAY AND TUESDAY

The sixth Grand Council of the Young Men's Institute, Kentucky jurisdiction, meets in this city tomorrow, Monday and Tuesday, and there is every indication that it will be the largest and best meeting ever held in this State. The business sessions of the Grand Council will be held at Trinity Hall, on Gray street, near Shelby. Several entertainments have been planned for the delegates and other visiting members during their stay in Louisville.

The first function at which the delegates and visiting members will assist will be the joint initiation, which will be held at St. Anthony's school hall, Twenty-third and Market streets, tomorrow afternoon. The three degrees of the Institute rank will be conferred upon a large class of candidates. Every council in the State will present candidates for initiation. A select team from Satolli Council will confer the first degree, a similar team from Trinity will confer the second, and the third degree will be conferred by a team from Mackin Council. The meeting will adjourn in time for supper. The delegates and visitors have been invited to attend the Robert Emmet centenary celebration in the evening and will doubtless be present in large numbers, as the features of the celebration will be interesting and instructive to all.

On Monday morning the delegates and visitors will meet at the Willard Hotel at 8:30 o'clock sharp and from there proceed to St. Aloysius' church, on Payne street, near Cooper, where mass will be celebrated. After services at the church the delegates will march to Trinity Hall, where the opening business session will be held. A second session will be held in the afternoon and at night all will be given a grand reception at the Athletic Club, Fifth and Zane streets. Another business session will be held on Tuesday, at which time the new officers of the Grand Council will be elected.

Great interest is being manifested in the election of grand officers, particularly for President and Secretary-Treasurer. The avowed candidates for the Presidency are Joseph Cassidy, of Phil Sheridan Council, at Bellevue, and James B. Kelly, of Trinity Council, Louisville. William O'Connor, of Satolli Council, who was spoken of some time ago as a prospective candidate, has declined to enter the race. Both Mr. Kelly and Mr. Cassidy are good men and earnest workers in the order. Either would make an acceptable and worthy Grand President. Mr. Cassidy's friends believe the northeastern section of the State is entitled to the office now, while Mr. Kelly's friends believe that Trinity Council is entitled to it. The friends of both candidates are making a spirited fight for their respective leaders.

The race for Grand Secretary-Treasurer appears to be between George J. Lautz, the incumbent, and John B. Shannon, of Barry Council, at Lexington. Friends of the latter believe that the Bluegrass members of the order are entitled to see their choice elected Grand Secretary-Treasurer, while there are many others who, recognizing the ability and energy displayed by Mr. Lautz, believe that he has earned another term. Both gentlemen are capable and the election of either will be a credit to the order in Kentucky. President Will Perry has appointed the following committees:

On Laws—Augustus J. Bizot, of Mackin Council; William O'Connor, of Satolli; John P. Hanley, of Lambert Young Council.

On Credentials—S. A. Noe, of Council 162, Chairman; Jacob F. Jonas, of Council 206, and James J. O'Brien, of Council 144.

This year there will be four more delegates than last year and two new councils, one at Bardonia and one at Owensboro. Two others will soon be organized, one at Mayville and one at Henderson. The closing feature of the Grand Council will be a banquet at the Willard Hotel at 8 o'clock on Tuesday evening. Augustus J. Bizot will preside as toastmaster.

Clarence H. Zook will welcome the guests to the banquet table, after which the Rev. Father J. A. O'Grady will invoke the Divine blessing. When the visitors have done justice to the good things set before them Toastmaster Augustus J. Bizot will start the speech-making. The following toasts will be responded to:

"Our Church," Rev. Father Ahmann.
"Our Order," Joseph A. Cassidy.
"Our Country," Joseph E. Piazza.
"Kentucky Jurisdiction," Will Perry.
"Our New Councils," James B. Clark.
"Fraternal Societies," John Cooney.
"The Press," John J. Barry.
During the banquet all will join in singing "America," and at the conclusion of the addresses "Faith and Fraternity" will be sung in chorus.

CHANGE OF FRONT.

One hundred years ago today Robert Emmet, the youthful Irish patriot, was sentenced to be hanged and quartered. One hundred years ago today he made his speech from the dock, that speech which will live as a masterpiece of oratory as long as the English language will continue to be read or spoken. One hundred years ago tomorrow the sentence of the English court was carried out and Emmet died that his country, which he loved better than his life, might live. His body lies in an unmarked grave. No epitaph is graven on stone to mark where the hero lies buried. But better far, his name and fame are enshrined in the hearts of Irish men, Irish women and Irish children the world over. Who then would have a monument of crumbling marble or perishable bronze, when his memory lives in the minds and the hearts of his people?

The cause for which Emmet died, the freedom of Ireland from the galling British yoke, is still dear to the hearts of the Irish people, whether sojourning afar off or at home in Ireland. The warfare has never ceased, and, please God, it never will cease until "Ireland is a nation once again." True, the weapons of warfare may have changed somewhat since Emmet's time, but the new weapons have been none the less effective. Physiologists teach us that the heart is the engine that keeps life in our bodies. Strike at the heart and you strike at the seat of your enemies' strength, the warriors tell us. But the Irish some years back discovered that the hearts of the English tyrants lay in their pocketbooks. "Attack the English pocketbook" became the watchword, and the attack was carried on so vigorously that England now comes forward with a land bill for Ireland. Think of it! England has been unable to conquer the Irish people for century after century. She has ordered them to hell or Connaught. They went to Connaught. She has scattered them over the waste places of North and South America and Australia. She has sent them to join the armies of France and Austria. She has starved them, betrayed and maligned them. She sent them in fever-stricken ships to die like vermin on the ocean or on the shores of Newfoundland and Nova Scotia. And why? Because they were incorrigible Irish.

And now England, this same England, with her old greed of gold and power, comes with a land bill and says to the landlords of Ireland: "Let the Irish people buy from you the land they live upon. I will give their security for £100,000,000—$500,000,000.

And yet these are the same base bog-trotting, priest-ridden, incorrigible, irreconcilable Irish for whom Emmet died. The blood that flows through their veins is the same now as when Malachi wore his collar of gold. The blood of Brian Boru, the O'Donnells, O'Neills, O'Sullivan, Sarsfield, Wolfe Tone, Emmet, is just as valorous now as when these individual heroes were living. Ireland's sons and daughters are rebels now as they were centuries back, but England has changed front. She vouches for the honesty of the people she never could buy to change their religion, nor conquer into accepting the yoke of slaves. Why this change of front? It is because her pocketbook has been touched. The landlords got little or no rent. They became bankrupt and had no money to spend in England. She lost her markets abroad and became a buying instead of a selling nation. The Irish that she had forced to emigrate became the leaders of thought and action in other countries and English commerce began to fail. England's pocketbook has been touched and now she cries for quarter.

This is no time to falter in the work of liberating Ireland. Keep up the good work. Teach your children what patriotism is, why Emmet died. Falter not in the fight until Ireland has obtained her freedom and Emmet's epitaph is written by one of those who know his motives.

OVATIONS FOR BECKHAM.

Gov. Beckham continues to receive ovations on his tour through the State and has made a favorable impression wherever he has spoken. He has an advantage inasmuch as he can deliver his addresses without the aid of typewritten manuscript. The Democratic campaign is now on in full force. The nominees for State offices are on the hustings in every one of the eleven congressional districts and are striking telling blows against the opposition. They have facts and figures to prove that the present State administration is a just and economical one. Gov. Beckham carried the war into the enemy's country by delivering several speeches in the mountains where he spoke to thousands, Republicans as well as Democrats. Nothing appears to stand between the Democratic State nominees and success.

The Northwestern Messenger is the name of a new Catholic paper published at Duluth, Minn., and Rochester has a new Catholic paper called the Catholic Citizen. Both journals have been highly complimented both as to editorial matter and appearance. The Kentucky Irish American hastens to congratulate the editors of these journals and to express the wish that both may flourish long in the field of Catholic journalism. One Catholic journal should never consider another a competitor, but an aid in the great work to be accomplished, the furnishing of instructive and wholesome reading matter.

The centenary of Robert Emmet's martyrdom will be celebrated at the new Masonic Theater tomorrow night under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Ancient Order of Hibernians. Go and encourage the good women who have undertaken this work from a purely patriotic motive. Take your children along and let them hear what Irish music is. If you want your children to honor you and the land of your forefathers, begin to teach them early in life who the Irish patriots were.

From the great number of complaints heard recently it seems that some of the police are exceeding their authority in preventing children from playing on the sidewalks. One of these officious guardians of property declines to allow the little one to play "Ring Around the Rosie" on the ground that they are disturbing the peace, and kite flying he considers an absolute felony.

Robert Emmet might have escaped death on an English scaffold had he not delayed to say farewell to his sweetheart, Sarah Curran. The Irish-American women of Louisville will honor Emmet tomorrow as a patriot and lover.

It would be a fitting tribute to the Irish-Americans of Louisville were Joseph Nevin's name placed on the list of candidates for Aldermen. Mr. Nevin would add considerably to the strength of the local ticket.

GOOD EXAMPLE

Set by Bellevue Council in Celebrating Its Tenth Anniversary.

The members of Phil Sheridan Council, Young Men's Institute, at Bellevue, Ky., celebrated the tenth anniversary of that organization last Sunday. The young men approached Holy Communion in a body at the 7 o'clock mass at St. Anthony's church. The children of the parochial school were also present at the mass. The musical programme was grand and added to the solemnity of the occasion.

In the evening the members of the Young Men's Institute attended solemn vespers, following the example recently set by Mackin Council in celebrating its tenth anniversary. The high mass in the morning was celebrated by the Rev. Father Frank Kehoe, chaplain of the council, assisted by the Rev. Thomas Kehoe, of Ludlow, and the Rev. Father Dwyer, of Newport. The Rev. Father Jerome, of the Passionist order, delivered one of the most masterly sermons ever heard in Bellevue, and one eminently befitting the occasion. In the evening several male societies joined with the Young Men's Institute members in the attendance at vespers, among them being the Knights of St. Edward, attired in fatigue uniforms. The music was impressive, the choir under the direction of Miss Ida Cassidy acquitting itself in magnificent style. All joined in the singing of the grand Te Deum as a fitting finale.

On Thursday evening a reception was given to the members of Phil Sheridan Council and their lady friends at the club rooms.

FATHER WILLIAMS' ESCAPE.

A telegram from Baltimore announces the fortunate escape from death by drowning of the Rev. Father William Gausepohl, one of Louisville's most beloved pastors. Father Gausepohl is visiting his brother in Baltimore and the two were aboard a steam launch Wednesday during the fearful storm that prevailed on the Atlantic coast. The launch was swept about the Patuxent river like a feather and was in danger of capsizing, when taken in tow by a steam tug and carried to a place of safety.

For loose flowing coats the long nap zibelines of soft texture are eminently desirable and some of the very swellest of the new warm wraps are loose coats of biscuit-colored long nap zibeline, silky gleaming and falling softly.

SILVER JUBILEE

Monsignor Zabler to Celebrate the Twenty-Fifth Anniversary of His Ordination.

The people of St. Martin's congregation will rejoice with their pastor, the Right Rev. Monsignor Francis Zabler, next week at the celebration of his silver jubilee. An entertaining musical programme has been arranged and an agreeable surprise has been prepared for the jubilarian.

On Monday evening the children of St. Martin's parochial school will assemble to congratulate their pastor and an enjoyable evening is promised. The great day will be Tuesday, the actual twenty-fifth anniversary of Monsignor Zabler. Monsignor Zabler will officiate at solemn high mass and the Right Rev. Bishop McCloskey will occupy a position of honor in the sanctuary. A full orchestra will assist the choir under the direction of Prof. Bernard Dentering. The Rev. William Steng, D. D., of Providence, R. I., will preach the jubilee sermon. At noon Monsignor Zabler, Bishop McCloskey and the other clergymen will be given a banquet in the school hall.

LIST SWELLING

Mackin Council Will Be Well Represented in the Initiation.

Three new applications for membership were received by Mackin Council, Young Men's Institute, Tuesday night and the following new members were elected: John J. Doyle, Eugene F. Nolan, George L. Wentzell, Frank P. Richards, Anthony J. Miller, Dan Patton, Frank Bertlekaup and John Nash. This will swell Mackin's list of candidates to be initiated tomorrow to about twenty-five.

Charles Smith, who is ill with typhoid fever, was reported to be improving. The Lecture Committee reported that it would inaugurate its series of lectures on September 29. Every member of the council was urged to attend the initiation tomorrow and to welcome the visiting delegates to the Grand Council. An invitation to attend the Robert Emmet celebration to be given under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary, Ancient Order of Hibernians, was accepted and the members will turn out in large numbers.

EUCHE and DANCE.

The Young Ladies' Auxiliary of Trinity Council, Young Men's Institute, will give a eucche and dance at Trinity Hall, 718 East Gray street, on Thursday evening. The game will be called at 8:30 o'clock. A number of handsome prizes will be awarded. The following committee will be in charge: Misses Fannie Cuniff, Josie Donahue, Mayme Burke, Anna Daley, Anna Manemann, Mayme Burkhardt, Lula Schwaniger and Josephine C. Hoertz. The ladies will be assisted by the following young men: George Relling, John Zoll, George Hoertz, Robert Goebel, Charles Seivert, Mark Morris and Joseph Bell.

CONDITION SERIOUS.

Henry Cooper, a bridge builder in the employ of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company, who fell beneath a heavy derrick at South Louisville early this week, is in a very serious condition. His friends hope for his speedy recovery.

TO VISIT OWENSBORO.

Charles J. O'Connor, District Deputy for Kentucky of the Knights of Columbus, and Alderman James J. Fitzgerald will go to Owensboro on October 27 to look after the organization of a council of the Knights of Columbus there.

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing the Past Week—General News Notes.

A new division of the order has been organized at Pittsfield, Ill. Division 3 of Hartford, Conn., recently exemplified the third degree on thirty candidates.

Divisions 1 and 2, Ladies' Auxiliary of Columbus, Ohio, recently re-elected their incumbent officers.

Division 4, Ladies' Auxiliary of Minneapolis, gave a very enjoyable wheel party on Thursday.

At Keokuk a branch of the Ladies' Auxiliary, has been formed with forty-three charter members.

Division 7 of Syracuse gave a picnic on Wednesday. Old-fashioned Irish jig and reel dancing was one of the principal features.

Division 3 will hold its regular semi-monthly meeting at Hibernian Hall Monday night. A full attendance is expected to develop.

Division 1 of Duluth has passed a resolution congratulating the Irish Parliamentary party on the passage of the land bill. A copy of the resolution has been sent to John Redmond, M. P.

The first annual reunion of the order in Clearfield, Jefferson, Indiana and Elk counties, Penn., was recently held in Debois. More than 1,000 members and five bands of music were in the parade.

Division 1 will meet Tuesday night, at which time a number of candidates will be initiated. Members of other divisions are invited to be present. This is the parent body in this county, and as the fall and winter series of meetings will be then inaugurated, Secretary Mark Ryan has notified all members to attend.

National President James E. Dolan is to be appointed a member of the Board of Trustees of the Catholic summer school at the next meeting of that board in October. The National Directors with President Dolan recently attended the Catholic summer school and were so much pleased with the surroundings and the reception tendered them that they decided to have a course of lectures delivered at each session of the school. These lectures will be under the direction of the Hibernians.

Division 4 will hold a social session Wednesday night in honor of its increased membership. The many candidates recently initiated will appreciate the work of the Literary Committee who have charge of the features of this social session. Through a misadventure it was announced last week that ladies would be admitted to the social session. Such is not the intention, however. The members of Division 4 prefer waiting until a more auspicious occasion, when they can unite with other divisions in entertaining the ladies.

TALKS TO TEACHERS.

The Hon. Edward J. McDermott will deliver a lecture at 10:30 o'clock this morning before the Louisville Educational Association. His subject will be: "Some Opportunities and Duties of the Public School Teacher." The lecture will be given in the Male High School building.

THE TATTLER.

Mrs. Elvira Sydnor Miller Slaughter, who until a few months ago edited the Tattler column in the Times, has embarked in a literary venture of her own. She will call her paper "The Tattler," and the first issue will appear October 3 and will appear every Sunday thereafter. Politics, society, the drama, sports and general gossip will all be handled by Mrs. Slaughter in her own inimitable style.

Chiffon scarfs of several shades threaded through lace or eyelets are another method of introducing shaded trimming, but the tones must be carefully selected.

DIED IN DENVER.

James J. O'Boyle Was Formerly a Resident of This City.

The sad intelligence of the death of James J. O'Boyle at Denver, Col., reached Louisville this week. Mr. O'Boyle lived in Louisville at one time, but left here for Colorado in 1879. While in Louisville he was employed as a tin and coppersmith by the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company. He had many friends in Louisville among Irish-Americans, who will be sorry to hear of his demise.

From Louisville Mr. O'Boyle went to Leadville twenty-four years ago and prominently identified himself with the Knights of Robert Emmet and the Wolfe Tone Guards. From Leadville he removed to Glenwood Springs and then to Rico, where he was President and General Manager of the Rico Hardware Company. One year ago ill health compelled him to remove to Denver, where he remained until his death last week. The end came peacefully and while Mrs. O'Boyle and their children were at his bedside. He leaves one son and five daughters.

COLGAN'S FAREWELL

George Perry Chosen to Succeed Him as President of Satolli Council.

Satolli Council met Monday night and elected George Perry to succeed Harry Colgan, who resigned from the Presidency. Mr. Colgan resigned owing to the fact that a recent promotion calls him away from the city. Only compulsory business was transacted, after which the members adjourned to the reception rooms and held a social session, at which Harry Colgan was the guest of honor. A luncheon was served, with plenty of cigars and a few speeches, helped the members to spend a very pleasant evening.

Mr. Perry, the new President, is an ardent member of the Young Men's Institute and his election gives general satisfaction. Mr. Colgan leaves with the best wishes of his many friends both in and out of Satolli Council.

Many visitors were present from Mackin and Trinity councils and enjoyed the hospitality afforded by Satolli.

LABOR CARNIVAL CLOSES.

The Labor Carnival closes tonight after two weeks of success. Occasionally the weather interfered with the attendance, but the crowds on the fair days more than offset the losses during inclement weather. The labor unions of Louisville are under a debt of gratitude to Messrs. Joe Bradburn, Ben Sand, Lewedag and Preslie Moore, who so successfully managed the carnival, as it has shown that they have men of rare business ability in their ranks.

TAKES A REST.

James F. Dittman, a popular letter carrier, left Wednesday to spend his annual furlough of fifteen days. Part of the time he will be the guest of his mother at Boston, Ky., and the remainder of the time he will spend in the Kentucky mountains. Mr. Dittman has been a letter carrier during the past fifteen years and is deservedly popular.

MRS. CAMFIELD VERY ILL.

Mrs. Tom Camfield, one of the best known and most highly respected ladies in the East End, is very ill at her home, Baxter avenue and Hull streets, and her death is momentarily expected.

GOOD WORDS.

Pope Pius X. Recommends the American Catholic University.

His Holiness Pope Pius X. has sent a cordial letter, containing a brief in favor of the Catholic University at Washington, to the Very Rev. Dennis R. O'Connell, rector of the university. Pope Pius recommends the university to the support of the whole people of the United States and adds that he trusts to their generosity to enable it to accomplish its final object, which is to maintain and augment the intellectual supremacy of America.

Thus the new Pope shows that he is the friend of education and the friend of America. The popularity of the Catholic University is growing each year. Doubtless a decade hence it will rank with the leading educational institutions in the Old World.

BUCKINGHAM.

The Cherry Blossoms Burlesquers will be the attraction at the Buckingham Theater next week. Two funny extravaganzas will be presented. A splendid line of vaudeville talent will be presented in the olio. The usual matinees will be given during the week.

MACAULEY'S.

"Way Down East," one of William A. Brady's wholesome dramas, will hold the boards at Macauley's Theater next week. Although this drama has been on the road several years, it appears ever new and never fails to please. It is a play with a moral and just enough comedy to relieve the melodramatic features. One sees the old-fashioned New England school and hears the harvesters singing at their work. The snowstorm is a marvel of stage mechanism. The usual matinees will be given on Wednesday and Saturday.

THE VATICAN

Will Participate in the World's Fair at St. Louis
Next Year.

It seems that in the light of recent events the Vatican will participate in the St. Louis World's Fair next year. Monsignor Merry Del Van, acting Secretary of State for the Vatican, has been authorized to select an ecclesiastical dignitary to represent the Vatican at St. Louis and to determine which are the best historic, literary and artistic objects to display at the World's Fair. In return the World's Fair Commissioners will send a delegate to Rome to continue the negotiations. When all the details of the Vatican's participation are arranged, Secretary of State Hay will send a formal invitation to the Vatican on the same basis as those sent to European powers.

It is safe to say that the display made by the Vatican will be one of the most interesting and elaborate at the World's Fair. A ship will be sent to Italy for the Vatican exhibits and the American Government will become responsible for the safekeeping of the valuable articles committed to its care.

MASONIC THEATER.

"Hoity Toity," Weber and Field's luxuriously extravagant musical comedy, on which they lavished $25,000, comes to the Masonic Theater for one week, commencing Monday night. "Hoity Toity" is to laugh. There is a plot, to be sure, but you don't want to let that worry you, as it is frankly admitted that it is a mere thread on which to hang an unusually good assortment of hilarious comedy and tuneful music. The chorus is one of rare loveliness, and, what is more, is distinctly a singing chorus. The original scenery and light effects used in the New York production will be seen in this production, and no expense has been spared in making this the greatest musical "hit" on Broadway in a decade.

MONUMENT

To Allen, Larkin and O'Brien Is Being Erected in County Clare.

Magnificent Demonstration Attended Foundation Stone Laying at Killrush.

Patriotic Addresses From the Rev. Father Clancy and Others.

NATIONALISTS URGED TO REUNITE

A remarkable demonstration was held recently at Killrush, in the County Clare, on the occasion of the laying of the foundation stone of the monument to the Manchester martyrs, Allen, Larkin and O'Brien. Not only were people present from all parts of Clare, but the city of Limerick sent her Mayor, Michael Donnelly, and a large delegation of citizens. Nearly every county in Ireland was represented. The success of the demonstration was due to the exertions of the Rev. Father Clancy, of Kilkee. In reply to an address of welcome from the people of Killrush, Father Clancy said:

"Your address, coming from a representative body in my dear native county, has a special value for me. These local representative bodies have a splendid impression and a splendid opportunity by a display of fearless public spirit and government capacity. It is in their power to prove our right to national self-government and to make their board rooms so many centers of healthy national life. I have no doubt but in that matter Father Clancy will do its duty and have much pleasure in accepting this address from a representative body placed in their position by the votes of Nationalists. I can not separate your address from the action that called it forth—my acceptance of the invitation of the martyrs' memorial committee to lay the foundation stone of the monument to the memory of Allen, Larkin and O'Brien. I accepted that invitation with great pleasure and pride. I consider the erection of a monument to the memory of the men who knew how to die for Ireland a splendid national work, worthy of enlisting the sympathy of every Irish Nationalist. I hoped that the present occasion would be the means of inviting all Nationalists in a noble project, and that all differences would be laid aside, if not altogether healed, and the voice of discord hushed in the hallowed presence of the martyred three. Even still I hope that the example of Allen, Larkin and O'Brien will not be lost on us, and that this day will be a starting point of renewed union and energy for our common country."

Father Clancy then formally laid the foundation stone, after which he was escorted to the platform from which he addressed the assembled multitude. He spoke in part as follows:

"Neither royal visits nor goals would weaken or slacken the determination of Irishmen to have a free and unshackled Ireland, such as their countrymen dreamed of and died for. They had assembled there today in their assertion of the revived spirit of patriotism. Thirty-five years ago their countrymen died at Manchester, and the struggle in which they took part ended apparently in failure, but it was not so, for the meeting today proclaimed to friend and foe that their memory lived in Irish hearts. The weapons in use were not the same, but there was no less devotion to the old cause. No matter by what means they hoped to reach the goal, no matter about leagues or associations, they bonded themselves in whatever differences might exist among Irish Nationalists as to methods and opportunities, they were all as one in admiring the patriotic devotedness and lofty heroism which this memorial was intended to perpetuate. People might say that they had no right, having abandoned the methods of the martyrs, to take part in such a celebration, but they had left to their countrymen a heritage which every man who had a heart to feel, a brain to plan or an arm to strike for Ireland—a heritage for every Irishman who desired to see his country a self-governing nation. Wolfe Tone, Emmet, John Blake Dillon, the worthy father of a worthy son, were all patriots, and the father was just as faithful a soldier when at the barricade of Killeenah as when he was member for Tipperary. So it was with J. F. X. O'Brien, and weapons of the Irishmen today hurt and galled the enemy just as much as those of their fathers." The reverend gentleman detailed the circumstances of the Manchester executions and said the martyrs were honored today by Irishmen as no king or kaiser would be. This monument would be a decisive answer to those who fancied that the settlement of the agrarian question would be the death of the demand for national self-government. It would tell their foreign rulers how futile was the attempt either by concession or coercion to undermine or subvert their determination to be free men on their own poor land. It would be a shrine before which Irishmen could lay aside all selfish or factious feeling, doubt, apathy or despair and unite in common love and brotherhood for the sake of their land, for which Allen, Larkin and O'Brien gave up their young lives. It would be an assurance to their Mother Erin that her ranks would never lack soldiers, and although, as in the case of Allen, Larkin and O'Brien, it might be but a forlorn hope, they would follow in their footsteps.

J. P. O'Brien, of Dublin, followed Father Clancy in a patriotic address and the demonstration was brought to a close by all joining in the song "God Save Ireland."

The style of the monument is to be Hiberno-Romanesque as regards plinth and pedestal, the curves of the arches and the traceries over the capitals being treated in a very bold and characteristic manner. Surmounting the pedestal will stand the allegorical figure of Erin, conventional, no doubt, but done in a very spirited and effective way. The expression and the attitude suggest sorrow and defiance. In the hand rests a wreath to be laid on the grave of her martyred sons. Crouching at the feet of this excellently modelled figure is the everfaithful wolf-dog sentinel. On the lower panels the inscriptions are in Gaelic on two panels and in French and English on the others. The upper panel contains the portraits of Allen, Larkin and O'Brien, and a crownless harp with wreathed shamrocks. The inscription upon one panel reads as follows: "Erected in the year 1903 by a committee of Killrush Nationalists, through public subscription received from Irish the world over, to the memory of the Manchester martyrs, Allen, Larkin and O'Brien, who were judicially murdered by a tyrannical Government on November 23, 1867, for their gallant rescue of Kelly and Deasy, the Fenian chiefs, from the prison van at Manchester. God save Ireland." On another panel, also in Gaelic and English, are the words: "Over the neglected plot in which their calumniated remains are lying no stone stands inscribed with their names; no emblem to symbolize their religion or their nationality. But to that gloomy spot the hearts of the Irish people will ever turn with affectionate remembrance, and the day will never come when in this land that bore them the brave men whose ashes repose within will be forgotten."
